

MANAGING GREAT INNOVATION

Working Student Innovation Management & New Business

minnosphere combines passion for innovation with a long expertise in the IT sector. The company was founded in May 2016 and is part of the msg group. Specialists @ minnosphere create and develop innovative software solutions and new business models. Our business partners and clients operate in various industries.

In your role you will:

- Organize, prepare, assist and run workshops
- Manage events in our innovation lab
- Support the management in daily business operations

We would like you to:

- Study Business Administration or a similar course of study
- Have an organisational talent
- Have basic knowledge in design thinking
- Have an excellent understanding of business processes and are passionate about innovative product concepts
- Be a team player and being willing to take responsibility for interdisciplinary topics
- Have a target-oriented, creative and entrepreneurial working style
- Be fluent in English and German

What we offer:

- An exciting role focused on innovation
- A highly motivated, extremely talented international team
- Flat hierarchies, open communication
- Entrepreneurial working style
- Innovative and inspiring work environment in one of our innovation labs

Excited? Be part of minnosphere and help us shape products of the future. Apply now and send your application documentation and curriculum (in German or English) to jens.maetzig@minnosphere.com.